

More holiday reading

A Christmas Blizzard check catalog

James Sparrow is a wealthy but unhappy man. He would rather be in Hawaii avoiding Christmas but instead has to go back to his hometown of Looseleaf, North Dakota to visit a dying uncle. Trapped there by a blizzard James faces his past.

Fiction/Keillor, Garrison

The Christmas Clock check catalog

Eight year old Teddy wants to buy his Grandmother a Victorian clock that reminds her of her childhood. Lottie wants to find her grandson Teddy a home before Alzheimer's overtakes her. Sylvia and Joe are former lovers parted by tragedy and misunderstandings. What can re-unite them?

Fiction/Martin, Kat

The Christmas Dog check catalog

Betty Kowalski does not feel like baking or decorating and is plagued by a dog that keeps showing up on her doorstep. She suspects the mutt belongs to her mysterious, and possibly neglectful, new neighbor Jack. When her granddaughter comes to stay the child falls in love with the dog, which means that Betty has to start talking to Jack.

Fiction/Carlson, Melody

A Christmas Promise check catalog

In the impoverished and dangerous east end of Victorian London young Gracie Phipps is on an errand for her Gran when she meets a lost waif called Minnie. The child's rag and bone collecting Uncle Alf has died and Charlie, his donkey, has wandered away. With Christmas drawing near, Gracie and Minnie attempt to solve the mystery of Uncle Alf's death with the help of kindly shopkeeper Mr. Balthazar.

Mystery/Perry, Anne

An Irish Country Christmas check catalog

In the village of Ballybucklebo two young doctors care for their patients and try to keep their respective love lives on an even keel. A new doctor moves into the area and uses dubious medicine to drum up business. Can our heroes stop him and still find time to enjoy the blessings of the season?

Fiction/Taylor, Patrick

Lakeshore Christmas check catalog

Maureen likes an orderly life and is well suited to her job in Avalon's public library. Having to work with former child star Eddie Haven on the small town's holiday pageant tests her patience and good humor to the limit. Can these two put their differences aside and produce something magical?

Fiction/Wiggs, Susan

The Perfect Christmas check catalog

Cassie is thirty three and anxious to find a husband and start a family but so far none of the usual dating methods have worked. In desperation Cassie consults a matchmaker Simon, who promises her the perfect mate if she completes three tasks that are all about Christmas.

Fiction/Macomber, Debbie

Plum Pudding Murder check catalog

Hannah Swenson is the owner of the Cookie Jar, a small town bakery in Minnesota. It's Christmas time and Larry, the owner of the Christmas tree store, is found dead. It seems that quite a few people had a grudge against him and it's up to Hannah to find the killer.

Mystery/Fluke, Joanne

Six Geese A-Slaying check catalog

Meg Langslow finds herself reluctantly in charge of the Caerphilly annual Christmas parade. Things get worse when the man playing Santa is found murdered. The killer is still on the loose when a blizzard knocks out the power and lands Meg and her husband with some unexpected house guests.

Mystery/Andrews, Donna

Wishin' and Hopin': A Christmas Story check catalog

It's 1964 in the fictional town of Three Rivers, Connecticut and 10 year old Felix Funicello is doing his best to navigate 5th grade at parochial school. The advent of a new French teacher from Quebec and a Russian student both help to make this Christmas a memorable one for Felix.

Fiction/Lamb, Wally

INDIAN TRAILS PUBLIC LIBRARY DISTRICT

355 S. Schoenbeck Rd

Wheeling, IL 60090

Telephone 847-459-4100 Fax: 847-459-4760

TDD: 847-459-5271

Web site: <http://www.indiantrailslibrary.org> PT/December 2010

